

MISS STALLOWS
PRINCE ROSPIGLIOSICincinnati Bride for Member of Well Known
Catholic Family.CEREMONY IN PARIS;
HONEYMOON IN ARCTICBridegroom's Family Tree Contains Name of a Pope Blessing Sent by Pius X.

(By Cable to The Tribune.)

Paris, June 30. Miss Laura Macdonald Stallo, daughter of Edmund K. Stallo, of Cincinnati, was married to-day to Prince Francesco Rospiogliosi at the Anglo-American Catholic Church of St. Joseph, in the Avenue Hoche. The witnesses for the bride were Ambassador Herce and his brother, the archbishop-in-law, Prince Michel Murat. The witnesses for the bridegroom were his brother, Julio Rospiogliosi, and the Duke di Mondragone.

The service was performed in English, the priest afterward reading in Latin an ancient autograph letter from the Pope giving the Holy Father's special blessing and benediction to the young couple. The civil marriage had been previously performed at 10 a. m. in the Hotel de Ville by the Mayor of the Sixteenth Arrondissement of Paris.

The church was beautifully decorated with Anemone, lilies, white and pink hortensias and scores of roses of various colors.

A wedding breakfast was served after the religious ceremony by Princess Cecile Murat, mother-in-law of the bride's sister.

The bridegroom is a tall, slender, good-looking, dark-complexioned, clean-shaven man, thirty-four years old, but looking much younger. He is an able financier, and has served for some years on the Italian financial commission in China. He is of the elder branch of the Rospiogliosi family, which has always been a staunch supporter of the Vatican, so much so, in fact, that the Italian Ambassador to France was not present at the wedding solely owing to the strong differences between the Quirinal and the Vatican. (Clement IX, 1600-90), and the name of the father of the bridegroom figures in the Almanach de Gotha as commander of the Papal Noble Guard.

The Rospiogliosi are a kind of American marriages. Prince Francesco's uncle having married Mrs. Parkhurst, nee Reid, of New Orleans; his eldest brother, Giambattista, having married Mrs. E. H. Thompson, nee Reid, of New York, and a younger brother, Ludovico, having married Miss Mildred Haseltine, daughter of the American sculptor.

Among those present at to-day's wedding besides the family and the witnesses, were Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, wife of the ambassador; Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Haydon; Mr. and Mrs. Marquis de Villard; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Vesnich; Mrs. Rutherford Stuyvesant; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wall; Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont; Mrs. Nave, E. R. Thomas; and Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Felt.

It is understood that Prince and Princess Rospiogliosi intend visiting the land of the midnight sun in the course of their honeymoon.

Like her sister Helena, who said "No" to Nils Florman, friend of Colonel John D. Rockefeller, married a nobleman, Prince Michael Murat, Miss Laura Stallo, who is two years younger than the Princess Murat, dropped an American fiancé for an ancient European.

The engagement of Miss Laura Stallo to Jefferson P. Crane, of Dayton, Ohio, was announced last October and the wedding was fixed for September 20. But Crane was killed in mid-June on May 20, and his father, Mr. J. P. Crane, who was variously estimated at from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000. Their paternal grandfather, Judge J. B. Stallo, was Minister to Italy under President Cleveland.

Three or four years ago the girls had their father removed as one of their trustees, and then Miss Laura Stallo brought suit to have her share of the estate, which she claimed had been lost to her through the Metropolitan Trust Company misusing its authority to sell stock pledged by her father for a loan. Her appeal has yet to be heard.

The Stallo girl took as a second wife May Harrington, of Cleveland, Ohio, who eloped with Dan R. Hanna, Senator from Ohio, in 1890. She bore him three children, and was divorced from him in 1902. Two years ago she divorced Stallo and later was suing him for $7,000 on a promissory note.

The Princess Francesco Rospiogliosi is in her twenty-fifth year. She met Prince Rospiogliosi in Europe with her sister. The Prince and Princess Michael Murat were married in February last year. They came to New York in the fall and Miss Laura returned to Paris with them.

MISS BRADFORD AND
LT. RICHARDS WEDRear Admiral, in Full Uniform, Escorts His Daughter
to Altar.

(From The Tribune Bureau.)

Washington, June 30. In the environs of naval society, in which she was born and reared, Miss Rosemary Bradford, one of the prettiest girls of the navy circle, was married at 5 o'clock this afternoon in St. Margaret's Church to Lieutenant Clarence Albert Richards, U. S. N., Rear Admiral Bradford escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her hand in marriage. He wore dress uniform, including his sword, as did the bridegroom and four ushers, brothers officers of the navy. The latter were Professor Paul J. Dashiell, Lieutenant Andrew C. Pickens, Lieutenant Leigh Noyes and Lieutenant Douglas L. Howard.

Only the bridegroom's brother, who was best man, James T. Richards, of Tulsa, Okla., was in the conventional afternoon dress of society. The Rev. C. Ernest Smith performed the ceremony. Palm, ferns and white iris were used in the church decorations. The bride wore an artistic, designed in white satin with a long, square train fastened at the waist with a bolero of white tulle, also being used for a train, effect on the skirt. A coronet of orange blossoms and a cluster bouquet of gardenias and lilies added to the charm of the bride. She did the sweeping veil of tulle worn with a cap of point lace. Mrs. John Dunlop, matron of honor and the bride's only attendant, wore a modish gown of pink. Her leghorn hat was trimmed with pink roses and she carried a sheaf of long stemmed pink roses.

Following the ceremony at the church the several hundred invited guests, representing every branch of the service, attended the reception at the Washington Club. Rear Admiral Richards, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Richards, of Tulsa, Okla., left this evening with his bride for a short wedding journey.

WOMEN AS INTERESSES

Three Medical School Graduates Join Bellevue Staff.

Women internes will go on duty at Bellevue hospital for the first time in the history of that institution. The three young women, who in uniforms of white duck, with white caps, will be added to the staff of internes at the hospital, which is the first time in the history of the Cornell Medical School.

They are Miss Mae Walker, a Californian, who lives with her mother in the city; Miss Helen B. Brown, of New York; and Miss Anna Johnson, of New York.

Miss Walker, who will take an eighteen months' course at Bellevue, has been assigned to the pathological department. Miss Walker, who will also serve eighteen months and Miss Johnson, who will take a year's course, have been assigned to the medical department. On January 1 next Miss Helen Palliser, of 1367 Ocean av., Brooklyn, will become an interne.

To Produce Browne Play.

Morris Gest signed a contract yesterday with Porter Emerson Browne which calls for the early production by Mr. Gest and F. Ray Costello of Mr. Browne's new comedy, "Wild Oats."

It will be shown first in September. The play is the original London production of "The Story of the Rosary," which appeared in that play here as Venita von Sabran when Costello & Gest produced it in the fall.

Stork Visits Luna Burros.

The number of burros at Luna was increased yesterday by the arrival of a "baby" weighing fifty-five pounds. "Mother and child" are reported as doing nicely. Preceding the arrival of the stork, the other burros
evidenced great uneasiness and anxiety.
Now everything is serene among them.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The English department of New York University has arranged for production of "The Story of the Rosary," which is the original London production of "The Story of the Rosary," which appeared in that play here as Venita von Sabran when Costello & Gest produced it in the fall.

Pipe Organ of Ancient Landmark Goes for $150.

(By Telegram to The Tribune.)

Torrington, Conn., June 30. The Gothic Methodist Church building, nearly a century old and a landmark in the town, was sold at auction yesterday for $20 to W. H. Wadhams, of Goshen. A large pipe organ was sold to a Goshen lawyer for $150. The church bell brought $13. The proceeds of the sale will go to the New York State Conference of the Church.

JOHN D. ADDS TO SECRETS

Installs Hidden Lock to Guard Private Papers.

John D. Rockefeller, to guard his private documents and family jewels from burglars, has a latest patent safe installed in his mansion at Pocantico Hills yesterday in such a manner that it is not possible to find it, let alone get inside of the strong box.

The safe has a time clock attachment, so it can be opened only during certain hours. It was taken to the Rockefeller house and carefully fitted into a hidden alcove in the Rockefeller house, so that even the trusted servants in the house would not know where to find the family treasures, even if they went to search for them.
